

Services to Dental Associates

STRAIGHTFORWARD HIGH QUALITY ADVICE

Williams Giles has provided accountancy services to members of the dental profession for over 25 years. The Accounting for Associates is relatively straight -forward, but there are many mistakes made by those not represented by a dental specialist.

We can help you with your bookkeeping, advise on allowable expenses and assist with queries whether they be on superannuation or reconciling your providers statements.

Be it NHS or private dentistry, we believe our experience will help you understand the financial and tax implications being an associate dentist.

We offer a fixed fee approach which includes your accounts and self-assessment tax return, which includes all calls, emails and letters.

We can provide many additional services including:

Consultancy

Due to our familiarity with the industry, we can also provide advice on many matter and well placed to advise on purchasing a practice.

Tax Planning

With our up-to-date, cutting-edge tax knowledge we ensure that you only ever pay what you must and never more than you need. Incorporation, as an example, is never as simple as other accountants might make it out to be and we will ensure you are aware of all of the implications.
